

28TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

YEAR C – 9TH OCTOBER 2022

The community of the Cathedral of St Stephen acknowledges the traditional custodians of the land on which our parish stands.

The Cathedral Parish has zero tolerance for all forms of abuse and is committed to safeguarding everyone involved in its activities, ministries and services. The safety and wellbeing of children and adults-at-risk is paramount.

Readings for today: 2 Kings 5:14-17; 2 Timothy 2:8-13 Luke 17:11-19

Dear friends,

A few years ago, I visited the Holy Land. At one point, we travelled through the rough and impoverished territory of the West Bank in Palestine, and stopped at a Greek Monastery built upon the site believed to be Jacobs Well – where Jesus meet the Samaritan woman. In the near distance stood Mount Gerizim, which is the holy place for the Samaritans. That trip through to the Palestinian city of Nablus was perhaps the most disturbing part of the pilgrimage. The roads were narrow and rough, and the residents, gathered in little villages, seemed poor and isolated.

One thing that stood out as we drove through the unsettled landscape was that every now and then, quite unexpectedly, we would pass a Ferris wheels and water slides. There was about three or four of these as we travelled along. Where you might otherwise have expected barbed-wire and an army camp, we saw fun parks and amusement rides. It was an expression of some desire for normality living amid persistent tensions and the prospects of daily violence. It is a way of surviving living life on the edge. In this area today, there are still about 800 people who identify themselves as Samaritans a small minority who live mostly near Mt. Gerizim. The lepers in this Sunday's gospel are people who are used to existing on the edge, on the fringes. They don't have Ferris wheels and water slides to distract them; there is no escape from the realities of living in the prison of social exclusion. In this gospel, one Samaritan in particular takes centre stage. He is the one leper who knows who to thank for his cleansing and healing and well-being.

In Jesus' time, "leprosy" was a word used to describe a variety of contagious skin diseases. The only way they could keep these diseases from spreading was to isolate people who had any form of skin disease. They couldn't enter a village, and they couldn't live with their family. They had to live on the edge of town. If the disease went away, they would go to a Jewish priest and have him certify that they were "clean" and no longer dangerous to other people's health.

In the gospel, ten are healed but only one comes back and gives thanks: a Samaritan. That's not to say that the others weren't thankful, it's simply that the Samaritan knew whom to thank and why. This is not a story about reinforcing social niceties, or about petty desires to be thanked; it is about us recognising the things that come to us as a gift and the source from which they come. Perhaps those who do this best are those who start with very little; those who already know what it is to live on "the edge of town" – those who know what it is to be excluded.

O come and sing to God, the Lord,
to him our voices raise;
let us in our most joyful songs,
the Lord, our Saviour praise.

Before his presence let us come with praise and thankful voice;
let us sing psalms to him with joy,
with grateful hearts rejoice.

He is a great and mighty King,
above all gods his throne;
The depths of earth are in his hand,
the mountains are his own.

To him the spacious sea belongs,
he made its waves and tides;
and by his hand the rising land
was formed, and still abides.

O come, and bowing down to God
our worship let us bring;
yes, let us kneel before the Lord,
our Maker and our King.

Make me a channel of your peace.
Where there is hatred, let me bring your love.
Where there is injury, your pardon, Lord,
And where there's doubt, true faith in you.

Make me a channel of your peace.
Where there's despair in life, let me bring hope.
Where there is darkness, only light,
And where there's sadness, ever joy.

Oh, Master, grant that I may never seek
So much to be consoled as to console.
To be understood as to understand.
To be loved as to love with all my soul.

Make me a channel of your peace.
It is in pardoning that we are pardoned,
In giving of ourselves that we receive,
And in dying that we're born to eternal life.

Holy God we praise thy name!
Lord of all, we bow before thee;
All on earth thy sceptre claim,
All in heav'n above adore thee;
Infinite thy vast domain,
Everlasting is thy reign.

Hark! the loud celestial hymn
Angel choirs above are raising;
Cherubim and Seraphim
In unceasing chorus praising,
Fill the heav'ns with sweet accord:
Holy, holy, holy Lord!

Holy Father, Holy Son,
Holy Spirit, Three we name thee;
While in essence only one,
Undivided God we claim thee,
And adoring bend the knee,
While we own the mystery.

Recessional Hymn Holy God we praise thy name
(CWBII 504)

O God beyond all praising,
we worship you today
and sing the love amazing
that songs cannot repay;
for we can only wonder
at ev'ry gift you send,
at blessings without number
and mercies without end:
we lift our hearts before you
and wait upon your word,
we honour and adore you,
our great and mighty Lord.

Then hear, O gracious Saviour, accept the love we bring,
that we who know your favour
may serve you as our king;
and whether our tomorrows
be filled with good or ill,
we'll triumph through our sorrows
and rise to bless you still:
to marvel at your beauty
and glory in your ways,
and make a joyful duty
our sacrifice of praise.

Make me a channel of your peace.
Where there is hatred, let me bring your love.
Where there is injury, your pardon, Lord,
And where there's doubt, true faith in you.

Make me a channel of your peace.
Where there's despair in life, let me bring hope.
Where there is darkness, only light,
And where there's sadness, ever joy.

Oh, Master, grant that I may never seek
So much to be consoled as to console.
To be understood as to understand.
To be loved as to love with all my soul.
